The Harvest Is Great: A Word of Thanks for the Harvest Trigg County Crusade

It's October, we are nearing the end of the harvest. Nearly every field around us is cleaned of the crops they once held. Our Harvest Trigg Co crusade is behind us as well, but only the event. There is still a harvest out there to be reached.

I just want to express my gratitude and give thanks for the faithful support shown during the Harvest Trigg County Crusade. What took place was not the work of one person, one church, or one organization. It was the result of many hands, many prayers, and many willing hearts joining together for the sake of the gospel and the good of our community.

We are especially thankful for the churches of the Little River Baptist Association. Your support, both financially and through your physical presence at the crusade, helped make this outreach possible. Your giving provided needed resources, but your attendance, encouragement, prayers, and participation reminded us that we are strongest when we stand together. Thank you for investing not only funds, but also time, energy, and love into this important effort.

We also extend sincere appreciation to the Trigg County School System for its cooperation and support. Thank you for helping provide a place where people could gather, worship, hear the Word of God, and be challenged to respond to the call of Christ. Your willingness to serve the community in this way was a blessing to many.

Our thanks also go to Mayor Todd King and the Cadiz, Kentucky Police Department for its presence, assistance, and commitment to the safety and order of the event. Your service helped create an environment where families, churches, and guests could gather with peace of mind. We are grateful for the men and women who serve our community so faithfully.

The spirit of cooperation seen throughout the crusade is a reminder that God uses ordinary people, local churches, schools, public servants, and neighbors to accomplish kingdom work. Truly, we are BETTER TOGETHER! Every prayer prayed, every dollar given, every seat filled, every volunteer hour offered, and every act of encouragement mattered. The crusade may have been held on certain dates, but the work it stirred in our hearts must continue well beyond the final service.

Jesus said in Luke 10:2, "The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest." Those words give us both a picture and a challenge. The harvest is still great. There are still people who need hope, families who need encouragement, souls who need the gospel, and communities that need the light of Christ. The question before us now is not simply what happened at the crusade, but what we will do with what God placed before us during the crusade.

May every church take what was gained and carry it back into its own congregation, neighborhood, and mission field. Let the renewed passion for evangelism become personal witness. Let the unity experienced among churches become continued partnership. Let the prayers prayed during the crusade become ongoing intercession for Trigg County and beyond. Let the commitments made before the Lord become faithful service in the days ahead.
